PROFESSIONAL EXPERT ADVICE AND LEGAL REPORTS

Within the Landscape industry, there are many construction techniques and methods that are not regularly found in the standard building industry. The combination of living plants and specialist construction materials is unique to Landscape Design and Build projects, requiring specialist knowledge not usually found within Surveyor's Practices.

Introducing Specialist Experts who have a long and proven track record of working within the Landscape world, willing and able to provide Courts and Tribunals with clear and concise reports, produced to various disciplines in a timely manner, is the foundation for the new PGCA Expert Witness Service.

Each expert is totally independent, but with the same essential background of membership of the PGCA, which demands a minimum of experience within the industry of at least ten years, with a proven track record of skill and ability.

Each member has a wide range of knowledge, although they may also offer a particular expertise in a given subject. Operating as individuals, with no formal connections, each expert setting their own rates, terms and conditions to ensure their independence, covering a particular region or specialist subject.

The PGCA does not charge or allow any commissions or financial arrangements between members that may compromise the independence of the Association.

The Expert Witnesses shown within these pages may be contacted via the information profile supplied.

For general enquiries and more information regarding the Professional Garden Consultant's Association, please contact www.pgca.org.uk.
